MOONLIGHT AVIATION AT $4.00 A MOON-BEAM

YODLING A NIGHT SCHOOL DIVERSION; FOREIGN CITIZENSHIP INSTRUCTION INCLUDES SWINGING DUMBELLS; EVERYBODY'S HAPPY

Unimpeachable information obtained by the Register this week reveals the fact that a movement is under way among the citizens of Washington township to call a public meeting, under the provisions of the school law, to express the dissatisfaction of the public with the present management and policies of Washington Union high school.

This movement has arisen out of public criticism of conditions at the school. The teachers are being accused of poor sportsmanship. The principal is being accused of bestowing specal privileges upon his staff of assistants. And the school board is being censored for tolerating these unfair practices.

At present ten teachers of the school are drawing two salaries, one for day school and a substantial supplementary income for night school work, and bus driving.

The general public feels that in this time of depression there are countless capable township men and women who could ably fill the shoes of the present night school staff. In most schools of the state, local rules prevent the day teachers from teaching at night also. Although the present school staff is apparently within the state laws in holding down two jobs, it is certainly violating the laws of common decency and good taste.

The following are the ten teachers who teach in both day and night schools, or drive busses: J. V. Goold, Jess Regli, H. M. Kibby, Wm. D. Mette, W. D. Gravestock, Paul Pitman, B. L. Webb, Salvatore Belleci, George Richards, and Miss Lois Struve. Goold is vice principal of the day school, with a salary reported to be at $2750 per year. He receives in addition a salary of approximately $100 per month as night school principal. This latter wage alone would keep any one of the many starving township families in comparative luxury. All the other teachers receive four dollars per night in addition to their regular salaries. And each one teaches at least two nights per week, and most of them four. Kibby, on top of the handsome salary of $2400, receives a substantial monthly sum as a school bus driver. Webb follows with the mere pittance of $2300, so the school board gave him an additional $45 a month to keep body and soul together.

Another slap is taken at the present school management in the criticism of the appointment of Belleci as music teacher. Last term, J. E. Kimber, local resident and taxpayer, was allowed to resign from the same job on the grounds of school economy, as the teaching of music was to be discontinued. This term, Belleci, an outsider from near the town of Galt, and a personal friend of A. J. Rathbone, the principal, is given Kimber's former position—and the luxury study of music goes on.

The school board comes in for its share of criticism in tolerating the conditions under fire by the public. Many feel that the members of the present board must indeed be blind to permit these unfair practices to go unchecked.

An addtional topic for criticism, recently coming to the public notice, is the whole question of night school at the present time. The general feeling is that the citizenship and English classes for foreigners are the only subjects worth while at present. It has been pointed out, that, except for these two classes, the remainder of the night school is poorly attended. A very considerable percentage of the attendance is made up of grammar school pupils, and not adults.

It has been estimated that the expenses of the night school are fifty dollars per night. In view of the fact that the attendance is under one hundred persons, many feel that this is a stiff bill for the taxpayers to shoulder under present conditions. Janitor services and lights and heat have not been figured in the fifty dollar estimate. Even aviation is taught by the light of the moon at $4 per moonbeam.

It has also been pointed out that the Washington Union high school is practically the only school in the state that has not reduced teachers' salaries from the inflated war-time levels. While schools all around are reducing the salaries of their faculties to conform with present conditions, Washington maintains its teachers at the same salaries they received when the country was at the height of prosperity.

Niles Gravel Pit Opens; 21 People Get Employment

Plant to be Kept Busy for Month and Half on Road Order

Bringing welcome work to approximately twenty-one Niles men, the Pacific Coast Aggregate, Inc., gravel pit opened operations at Niles last week.

The gravel plant has an order which will keep it in operation for at least a month and a half, according to Lawrence Bunting, manager. This undoubtedly will be of benefit in bettering economic conditions in the Niles vicinity.

The rock and gravel that is being turned out at the plant is being used for Dublin Canyon highway, which the state is planning to pave in the near future. The Hayward Building company, of Hayward, are in charge of the hauling work, and are keeping some thirty trucks on the job approximately eighteen hours of the day.

The gravel pit has not been operating steadily for some time.

CAR DEMOLISHED IN NILES CANYON CRASH

Climbing more than ten feet up a steep bank that would have defied the ability of even the best hill climbing artists, a car driven by an Oakland man was entirely demolished Saturday night by the steel bridge in Niles Canyon.

The Oaklander, accompanied by two companions, was traveling in the direction of Niles at such a rate of speed that he failed to round the curve in the highway at the bridge. The machine darted up the bank with such force that it shattered a telephone pole approximately ten feet above the highway and rolled back on the road. The occupants only suffered slight bruises.

NILES SERVICE STATION IS LOOTED

Jimmying open the front door, burglars stole approximately $35 in tobacco goods from the Solon Brthers Service Station, First street, Niles, early Wednesday morning.

The proprietors had just put in a new stock of tobacco goods. The station was closed about nine-thirty Tuesday night, and the proprietors returned in the morning to find the front door broken open and the stock missing. This is but another of the ever growing list of acts of lawlessness which have been prevalent in Niles for the past few months. The proprietors may feel fortunate that the building was left them, at least.

Southern Alameda County Wins State Fair Honors

During the recent 1932 California state fair at Sacramento, Alameda county captured twenty-one prizes with entries in the floriculture and horticulture divisions. The display was arranged under the auspices of the Alameda County Development Commission, of which Harvey Braun, of Niles, a director, was chairman of the committee, working with Supervisor Ralph V. Richmond.

B. E. Amyx, of Niles, well known landscape architect, designed the display. N. W. Armstrong, of San Leandro, executive secretary of the development commission, represented the board of supervisors and was in charge of the exhibit for the county, assisted by Edwin Stearns, veteran exhibit man of Oakland, who has been at the fair for more than twenty years.

Vegetables grown in the Centerville and Alvarado sections and Hayward placed well in the prize list. The entries of the Garin Company ,of Centerville, captured first prizes for cauliflower, cucumbers and tomatoes. Onions grown by Ted Harvey, of Alvarado, won second place and the red ribbon in state-wide competition. Cunha Brothers, of Hayward, won red ribbons with their entry of bell peppers, pea seed and garden peas. Mrs. George Roeding, Jr., of Niles, won with her entries of asters in the floriculture group.

The county won a silver cup and purple ribbon for the most attractive display in the flower class; the coveted governors silver trophy cup and blue ribbon for the most attractive display of sweet peas; first prize on zinnias, straw flowers and everlasting flowers; flowering plants and shrubbery, an entry of B. E. Amyx, of Niles; second place with roses, carnations, dahlias, delphiniums, chrysanthemums and third on gladiolous and asters.

Salt from the Leslie Salt Company at Newark won first prize and blue ribbon. The decorative title fountain and front of the county exhibit won a special prize for clay products. The tile, of the Kraftile Company at Niles, won the plaudits of the judges in the mineral department and of the directors of the California State Fair.

Another attractive feature of the county display was the beautiful exhibit of birds entered by Peacock's Pet Farm, of Decoto, including love birds, parrakets, and canaries.

Many people from the southern end of the county attended the state fair and were loud in their praises of the general appearance of the display and high quality of the exhibits.

A. B. Miller, president of the state fair, and D. Eyman Huffog, Orange county, director in charge of the horticulture building booths, expressed themselves as being more than pleased with the splendid showing made this year by Alameda county. Other directors from every section of California visited the display daily and were liberal with commendation.

STATE TAX AMENDMENT IS PRESENTED BEFORE NILES COMMERCIAL BODY

Measure Would Equalize Tax Burden, Says Speaker

Stating that three-fourths of the state taxes are now obtained from common property taxes, E. A. Ellsworth, Niles business man, declared himself in favor of any measure which would result in a more equitable form of taxation, in presenting the affirmative side of the property tax reduction and equalization amendment before the Niles Chamber of Commerce at their regular luncheon meeting Monday noon.

The amendment up before the voters in the November election would amend the state constitution to "eliminate the requirement that the counties contribute an amount equal to the contribution of the state for elementary schools and a sum twice the amount contributed by the state for the support of high schools. It is recomended that the present provision in the state constitution requiring counties to match the state's contribution for teachers' salaries be changed to the ratio of contribution by the state and county be not necessarily the same as now existing, such requirment, providing, however, that such burden of which the county may be relieved shall be assumed and paid by the state, and the district."

Ellsworth expressed the opinion that farmers and other property owners are bearing an unfair burden of the taxes, a situation which would be somewhat remedied by the enactment of the amendment.

Under its provisions, according to Ellsworth, the tax burden for education will be equalized; an average reduction of approximately seventy cents on each $100 of assessed valuation in county ad valorem taxes will be affected; $45,000,000 will be lifted from common property, benefitting farmer, merchant, home owner, auto owner, etc.; if necessary to levy a state ad valorem tax, it will produce a more equitable distribution of the present county ad

Diet Didn't Do This!

HAPPY little girl, just bursting with pep, and she has never tasted a "tonic!"

Every child's stomach, liver, and bowels need stimulating at times, but give children something you know all about.

Follow the advice of that famous family physician who gave the world Syrup Pepsin. Stimulate the body's vital organs. Dr. Caldwell's prescription of pure pepsin, active senna, and fresh herbs is a mild stimulant that keeps the system from getting sluggish.

If your youngsters don't do well at school, don't play as hard or eat as well as other children do, begin this evening with Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. This gentle stimulant will soon right things! The bowels will move with better regularity and thoroughness. There won't be so many sick spells or colds. You'll find it just as wonderful for adults, too, in larger spoonfuls!

Get some Syrup Pepsin; protect your household from those bilious days, frequent headaches, and that sluggish state of half-health that means the bowels need stimulating. Keep this preparation in the home to use instead of harsh cathartics that cause chronic constipation if taken too often. You can always get Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin at any drug store; they have it all ready in big bottles.

GRAFT HINTED AS QUIZ OPENS IN SAN FRANCISCO SCHOOLS

Board Member Charges Tampering of Teachers' Record Cards

A county grand jury investigation of San Francisco school conditions began Tuesday night of this week as a result of charges that many of the teachers' records have vanished or were altered during the last few years.

The charges were made by Phillip Lee Bush, chairman of the finance committee of the board of education, which is seeking to "clean up" the school department.

Joseph Marr Gwinn, superintendent of schools, members of his staff, and the entire board of education are expected to be called as witnesses in the quiz. According to Bush, W. S. Owensby, special accountant, has been reporting cases of irregularity in the personnel files for the last year and a half. Some 339 records of the teachers' rating have been turned back by Owensby as faulty, it was revealed.

The rating cards are experience records of the teachers and thus determine the salaries they receive. Dr. Gwinn stated that he had no suspicion as to who is responsible for the alleged missing records.

A desire to "clean up the school accounting once and for all," was expressed by Mayor Angelo Rossi.

It is intimated that the city has been robbed of ten of thousands of dollars by juggling the rating of teachers. The scandal has rocked San Francisco as nothing else has since the days when Frances J. Heney sent a number of high officials to the penitentiary some twenty-odd years ago.

The San Francisco school disclosures are but one of dozens of other investigations on foot in California, in an effort to break extravagances and corruption in school administrations throughout the state. The taxpayer, at last, apparently, is determined to straighten out this rotten school mess.

The probable starting line-up as announced by Coach Regli follows: Booras, center; Wilson and Soit, guards; Sinclair and Herb Harrold, tackles; Rodrigues and Rivers, ends; Grimmer, quarter; Ed Rose and Gronley, halves; and F. Mederios, fullback.

GIRL FIRST JAILS YOUTH AND THEN BECOMES HIS WIFE

Marriage License Issued to Raymond Ruiz, of Centerville

Out of jail into matrimony. Such is the experience of which Raymond Ruiz, Centerville youth can boast as the result of an application to wed Vivian Plaza, eighteen-years-old Sunnyvale girl, being issued at the Oakland county court house Saturday, after he had been incarcerated in the city jail since Thursday on his fiancee's orders.

A lovers' spat occurred between Ruiz and his prospective bride Thursday after the pair had eloped to Oakland to be married, and resulted in Ruiz leaving the girl, taking $35 belonging to her. Miss Plaza, daughter of John Plaza, Sunnyvale rancher, summoned police who arrested the prospective groom in a hotel room.

Love apparently conquered in the end, for Miss Plaza appeared before police Saturday and asked for the release of Ruiz, saying that she had merely wanted to frighten him. Feeling that the couple would be happier before a marriage license clerk, officials placed Ruiz in Miss Plaza's "custody."

Illness of Santos Postpones Ball Game

Chick Santos underwent an operation for appendicitis at the Southern Pacific hospital Saturday night and is reported to be recovering at the present time.

Santos' illness necessitated the postponement of a baseball clash between a team made up of Centerville Lions Club members against a Washington township American Legion post nine. Santos has formed three teams among the Centerville den and some flashy ball playing will be seen on township diamonds in the near future, according to his report. One of his nines is composed of old-timers who cavorted nimbly about the diamond over thirty years ago, and ball fans are promised real entertainment when they swing into action. P. C. Hansen and Reverend McElhinney are among the veterans who will demonstrate that they still possess ability at "socking the old apple" and tossing the horse hide about the lot.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

Enrollment at the high school had reached 440 this week, with more students expected in the future. Three students transferred to Washington high this week from other schools. There were Vera Hattenhauer, a transfer from Bret Harte, Arkansas; Helen Moore, a freshman, from Brentwood; Nicholas Moore, senior, also from Brentwood; and James Andrews, freshman from St. Marys in Oakland.

The student body membership drive completed Friday was a huge success, with almost 100 per cent figure reached. The freshmen and seniors were victors in the contest over the juniors and sophomores for membership, both going over 100 per cent. The frosh were the first to reach the perfect mark.

Barton L. Webb has returned to his duties as instructor after an illness of three days last week.

A. J. Rathbone, principal, is attending the University of California on Saturday mornings.

The frosh revealed their ability at spelling at last Friday morning's assembly when a team picked from their group defeated a team composed of student body and class officers, in an old fashioned spelling match.

With prospects for a championship five brighter than ever last year, over twenty-five aspirants are out for Class C basketball daily at the high school. The boys will receive their first test of the year when they tangle in the Washington gym Friday, October 7, with two teams from the San Jose high school. A 110 and 120 pound five will compete.

RETURN OF GOOD TIMES SEEN IN REPORT OF BANK

There are many encouraging signs, says the Bank of America Business Review, released this week by the bank's Analysis and Research Department.

Employment throughout the state has definitely gained in the last thirty days. The largest increase in considerably more than a year is shown by the figures compiled. 1186 firms reported an increase of 15% in the number of employees on the August pay rolls.

August figures for building in 19 leading centers exceed the July figures by 18%.

Demand deposits in the reporting banks of the Twelfth Federal Reserve District increased from 544 million dollars to 562 million dollars. Bank debits for August in the fourteen cities reporting to the Federal Reserve Bank showed a slight decrease as compared with July.

Commodity prices have continued their upward march started in June.

Water commerce has continued to show the upward trend which was so evident in July. Los Angeles water-borne commerce for the month of August, with a total valuation of approximately $60,000,000 shows an increase of $2,250,000 over July of this year.

Former Mission Girl Sets Sail for Italy

Miss Rose Colombi, who has endeared herself to many hearts of the Portland radio audience with her lovely soprano voice, was educated in the Mission San Jose convent. From there she moved to Portland to make her home with her aunt, Mrs. E. Walsh.

Her vocal training was continued under a well-known Portland teacher.

Two weeks ago over one hundred friends bid her goodbye when she took the train for New York, to sail for Milan, Italy, on September 6.

Mrs. Allen Macey, of Pleasanton, who has been a friend of Miss Colombi for many years, made the trip from Pleasanton to bid her friend bon voyage. Every indication promises to see and hear Miss Colombi in opera in a few year.

Adding Zest to Daily Menus; New Ideas to Aid Housewife

By JOSEPHINE GIBSON
Director, Heinz Food Institute

EVERYWHERE busy women are on the lookout for dishes that are flavorful, substantial and practical to help them in the task of planning nutritious and varied meals. At times the housewife may feel that her supply of ideas is exhausted, and the planning of menus becomes a problem, even though she has much more in the way of ready-to-serve foods and fresh fruits and vegetables throughout the year than any generation of women before her. But we can find much in recipes that will be different and unusual. These suggested below are excellent, savory, main dishes that will form the "backbone" of economical dinners about which your family will enthuse.

Shepherd's Pie — New England Style: 2 cups mashed potatoes, 1 medium can Oven Baked Red Kidney Beans, 1 tablespoon minced onion, if desired; 1 tablespoon Prepared Mustard, ½ cup grated American cheese, paprika. Line a buttered casserole with well seasoned mashed potatoes, saving out enough for top. Place in prepared casserole, kidney beans combined with onion, if desired. Spread beans with mustard. Cover with remaining mashed potatoes. Sprinkle top with grated cheese and paprika. Bake in a moderate oven (375°F.) for 15 minutes or until brown. Serve hot. Serves 6.

American Chow Mein: 2 tablespoons butter, 1 cup onions, coarsely chopped; 1½ cups celery, coarsely chopped; ½ cup water, ½ teaspoon salt, 1 medium can Oven Baked Red Kidney Beans, 1 tablespoon flour, 2 tablespoons molasses, 2 cans chow mein noodles. Melt butter in large saucepan, add onions and cook until lightly browned. Add celery, water and salt and simmer gently 10 minutes. Add kidney beans and simmer 5 minutes longer. Blend together flour and molasses and add to bean mixture, stirring until mixture thickens. Pour over crisp noodles on a large platter. Serve hot. Serves 6.

Braised Veal and Vegetable Dinner: 1½ lbs. veal steak, 1 inch thick; flour, salt and pepper, 2 cups water, 4 medium sized potatoes, 4 medium sized onions, sliced; 4 carrots, 2 stalks celery, ¼ cup Chili Sauce, 1 teaspoon Prepared Mustard, 1 teaspoon Worcestershire Sauce. Flour veal on both sides and saute in butter in iron skillet to a golden brown. Season with salt and pepper. Add water and cook, covered, for 15 minutes. Add vegetables cut in quarters, cover and bake in moderate oven for about 45 minutes, or until they are tender. Add sauce made of chili sauce, mustard, Worcestershire Sauce and ⅓ cup water. Uncover and cook just enough to heat sauce and to brown vegetables very slightly.

S.P. WANTS TO ABANDON ITS AGENCY AT SUNOL

Action Is "Call to Arms" to People of Sunol

The Southern Pacific Company last week applied to the Railroad Commission for authority to close its agency at Sunol.

The news of this step on the part of the railroad is acting as a call to arms to the people of that community. Civic organizations and business men are banding together in a movement to fight the proposed step.

The plan, if it goes through, will mean a great loss to the town of Sunol and the surrounding countryside. The inconvenience of such a condition will be most keenly felt by the whole section.

It is to be hoped that a united effort on the part of Sunol business men, residents, and out-of bekahs, was accompanied by a threatening calamity.

A hearing on the question will be held before the Railroad Commission in San Francisco in the near future. At that time the people of Sunol will have their last chance to fight the action.

Night Classmen Discuss Racing in Pleasanton

"Horse Racing Is Desirable for Pleasanton." This was the topic discussed at the meeting of the evening class in public speaking, under the direction of E. O. McCormick, principal, at the Amador high school last Tuesday evening.

The class was divided into two sections, one side talking on the advantages and the other on the disadvantages. Andy Jorgensen will head the discussion in favor of the question, while Robert Dana will lead the opposition. Both are Pleasanton men.

At last week's meeting the class spoke on the question of a municipal swimming pool. The object of the speeches was to recognize the values which come from the development of the specialized central idea in the speech. Emphasis in the class is now being placed on the organization of the speech for explanatory and argumentive purposes.

The basis for the arguments for Tuesday's speeches was divided into five sections. They are as follows:

1. A statement of the propositions.

2. Importance of it at the present time.

3. A brief history of the case brought down to date.

4. Definitions of words if necessary.

5. A series of not less than three important questions which demand an answer of "yes" or "no."

The speech to convince progresses from the points mentioned above by properly answering the questions.

Pleasanton Man Acquitted at Trial

Because of insufficient evidence Joseph M. Rose, Sr., of Pleasanton, was acquitted by Judge Jacob Harder, of Hayward, last week. Rose was on trial for poisoning dogs in Pleasanton.

Rose was arrested in July by Constable Al Vervais, of Pleasanton, on a complalint sworn to by Ollie Page, of Pleasanton, one of those whose dogs had died from poison.

Rose was represented by E. H. Christian, of Hayward, while Stanley Smallwood, assistant district attorney, prosecuted the case.

Amador Seniors Study Spanish Style Home

Twelve senior girls make up the class in interior decorating, conducted by Mrs. Anita Smith, at the Amador Valley high school. The class at present is studying home decoration in Spanish style before the fourteenth century.

The students have been drawing plans for a Spanish house and arranging the Spanish style furniture in the rooms as you would apply old Spanish to a modern home. Mrs. Smith expects to take the class through several homes which are arranged in this Spanish style.

P.-T. A. To Discuss Publicity At Meeting

Mrs. W. E. Morrison, publicity chairman for the Sixteenth district, California Congress of Parents and Teachers, is calling a round table in publicity for September 23, from 10 to 12 a. m. in the Women's City Club, Oakland. Mrs. Joseph E. Morcombe, state publicity chairman, will give instruction in publicity and registration will be taken for a series of lessons in the work to be given by Mrs. Morcombe. Arrangements for publicity record books for the year will be made by Mrs. Morrison and orders taken for the books.

Tracing the Word "Pie"

"The word pie was unknown to English speech until the year 1303, and we are told by the late eminent philologist, Sir. James A. H. Murray, that it occurred in our literature first in Compotus of the Bolton priory in Lancashire in 1303, in which there is an entry concerning the use of fruit in pyis and pastellis for the bodyguard of the priory, Celerario priorie," writes Frank H. Vizetelly, dictionary editor. "The earliest work on cookery of which we have any record is dated 1390, and is in manuscript; the first book on English cookery was printed in 1498; but, ten years before Christopher Columbus discovered America, the Worshipful Company of Cooks was formed and chartered in the city of London in 1482."—Detroit News.

Authors and the Bible

A list of authors whose work shows the influence of the Bible would be endless, but we cite a few examples: Coleridge said, "Intense study of the Bible will keep any man from being vulgar in point of style." Daniel Webster said: "If there be anything in my style or thought to be commended, the credit is due to my kind parents in instilling into my mind an early love of the Scriptures." A Scotch nurse taught Byron to love the Bible and his "Hebrew Melodies" are drawn wholly from the Scriptures. In Robert Burns' "The Cotter's Saturday Night" there are some 20 Biblical references.—Washington Star.

Possible to Read by Light Mushroom Gives

Reading by the light of mushrooms is a novel experience. A striking phenomenon shown by certain fungi is luminosity of phosphorescence, according to Vera K. Charles, pathologist of the United States Department of Agriculture, and an Australian species of mushrooms is said to give out such a clear, emerald-green light that it is possible to read by it. The phosphorescence sometimes noticed in dead wood is caused by the underground or vegetative part of the mushrooms, which often gives off a bright glow that may be seen from some distance. Phosphorescence is sometimes shown by the mushroom itself, as in the cases of Clitocybe Illudens, commonly known as jack-o'-lantern, and Panus stypticus, a very common species. Phosphorescence in mushrooms has been the basis in some countries for fairy stories and superstitions about ghosts.

Wanted Her Rights

An insurance agent called upon Mrs. Potter for her weekly premium, and she informed him of her intention to remove immediately. "And when may I expect the van?" she added. Not quite understanding the question, the agent asked her for an explanation, and eventually discovered that a furniture van was what was required. "Yes," continued Mrs. Potter, "the company does all that, you know, free of charge." "The company!" gasped the agent. "Furniture van—free!" "Look here," said the lady, with an air of finality. "Here's a list of your own rules—'Members removing from one district to another will be transferred free of charge'!"—London Tit-Bits.

The Really Happy

There is only one kind of happiness worth while or possible—that which comes by growth. This can be achieved by any human being. Some have the opinion that people who merely vegetate are truly happy. Such people are pictured as being free from the hurry and bustle of the more complex civilization. It may be a pleasing picture, but it is not true. The men who achieve real happiness are those who grow, feeding on the best, exercising their powers, and pushing upward against the opposing forces.—Exchange.

Color Production

From a scientific or technical standpoint, black is the absence of all color, while white is not a color, but the combination of all of the colors of the spectrum. The colors are produced by the difference in the length of light waves, those that produce red being about twice as long as those that produce violet; white paper has no color because it reflects all wave lengths equally. Of course, from a popular standpoint and for all practical purposes, both black and white are considered as colors.

Mountain Lion Is Killed In Calaveras Hills

Two Hayward Men Shoot Cougar Chasing Deer

Although the California state lion hunter, J. C. Bruce, of Hayward, thought that there were no lions in the hills of the Sunol and Calaveras section, Paul Dobbel, of Hayward, shot a large female lion, recently, when he was out in the Calaveras region hunting deer.

Dobbel and Arthur Bailey, of Hayward, were deer hunting when they spied a deer running and noticed that something was chasing it. Immediately they aimed at the lion, which was running after the deer, and shot it through the front shoulders on the first shot fired. A second bullet in the lion's head finished the animal.

They brought the lion to Sunol, where it attracted the attention of the entire town. Rumors last winter stating that several lions were seen in that region were contradicted by a number of Sunol men and also by the state lion hunter.

A number of cattlemen having cattle grazing near the Calaveras section have complained of losing a number of animals.

The large female lion was shot on section nine about two miles from the new San Francisco water department tunnel, located in the hills north east of the Calaveras reservoir. The animal was six feet long and weighed eighty pounds.

Hunters are in search for the mate of the dead animal as it is expected that there are still a number of lions in that section.

MORE ON TAX AMENDMENT

valorem tax burden because it will include the several billion dollars operative property of public utility corporations now paying no local ad valorem taxes; it will not increase teachers' salaries where such are necessary; it leaves control of the local school with school boards; it will shift a portion of the cost of state governfent from a property tax to an ability to pay basis; it will afford the property tax payers a prompt, tangible, permanent tax relief.

The speaker also pointed out that the measure will equalize educational opportunities in that school districts in poor financial straits will receive aid from the state.

A communication from the Petaluma Chamber of Commerce, opposing the enactment of the amendment was read before Monday's meeting by A. J. Petsche, secretary.

According to the Petaluma chamber, the measure does not limit the expenditures of local school boards and thus is likely to result in increased taxes; it does not guarantee any reduction in school expenditures and the only real tax relief can be obtained through reduction of public expenditures; it would result in a centralization of school control which might lead to the creation of a dangerous school bureaucracy; it would result in an increase in the income tax which already has been upped by the recent federal tax bill.

With both sides of the question presented to the civic body members this week, President F. V. Jones announced that further discussion will be continued at next week's meeting.

A report of the Alameda county's showing in the display at the state fair was made to the chamber by Harvey Braun, member of the committee in charge. This report will be found in other column's of this week's issue of the Register.

A. J. Petsche was appointed chairman to arrange for next week's gathering. President Jones urged a stronger attendance at the civic body meetings. The meeting date was changed from Tuesday to Monday last spring in order to allow those unable to be present on Tuesdays to attend, but the change as yet has brought very little results.
